Stuff the Bus: School Supplies Needed!

Salt Lake City — Every year at the end of summer, most kids go back-to-school shopping for all the folders, pens, pencils, binders and glue sticks they could ever want. Unfortunately, some students don't have this luxury. United Way of Salt Lake is encouraging the community to "Stuff the Bus" and donate school supplies to help 8,500 children get the tools they need to learn.

Supplies will be collected until August 31, stuffed into backpacks and delivered to United Way Community Schools and Neighborhood Centers serving low-income children and families in our community. Hundreds of volunteers will stuff supplies into backpacks and deliver them on September 11, 2014 during the organization's 22nd annual Day of Caring event.

WHAT: Donate school supplies to benefit 8,500 low-income students

WHEN: June 1- August 31, 2014
